

15 Pieces Of Flare

The Amity Affliction

I saw the bridge today
I thought I had it burned
Made a stop to memories
I drowned out and had covered
Falling down into the river,
Where we're broken and destroyed
And understand I saw the coming
Of a past I'd left destroyed

I saw the ghost of everyday
Of every year I have forgotten,
And the grief and the confusion
Of a world I'd soon discover
The ghost of myself,
Is still mourning all the lives I won't discover,
Because I buried myself forever

I buried myself, and carved out new existence,
Where the memories were burned
And break all of my wishes,
And now I still pull down myself,
And I'm trying to find the bridge, and build the life
And build the life, the life I always wanted
Be no room, with much to give, open my eyes,
And take the world, and take a breath
In turgid water, where I've hidden away,
And I set my heart to slaughter
And the past I've left destroyed

I saw the ghost of everyday
Of every year I have forgotten,
And the grief and the confusion
The ghost of myself,
Is still mourning all the lives I won't discover,
Because I buried myself forever

Yeah!

My future, will not, be defined, by my past.
My future, our future
