

Death's Hand

The Amity Affliction

I held death's head this evening
Can't keep my heart from beating
Can't keep my throat from screaming
There has to be another way for me to keep on living

I held death's head this evening
Closed mind and still I'm breathing
Promise I won't leave here
Don't let me die I'm fucking screaming

Cause I've got more life left to live
(Got some promises to keep)
To all the hearts that carried me
(Up from the ocean deep)
I've had to do some searching to understand our reasons
For every selfish feeling
(I have the self the same name)

Now my looks are failing
And my heart is fading
My life is taking me
So far away I'm dreaming
For every selfish reason
I've got the part of training
I poured my heart out
Just so you'll believe me

I held death's head this evening
Closed mind and still I'm breathing
Promise I won't leave here
Don't let me die I'm fucking screaming

Cause I've got more life left to live
(Got some promises to keep)
To all the hearts that carry me
(Up from the ocean deep)
I've had to do some searching to understand our reasons
For every selfish feeling
(I have the self the same name)

You're the ones that kept me going
I owe you this much
You gave me the strength to say
Hey Death Get Fucked

Now my looks are failing
And my heart is fading
My life is taking me
So far away from breathing
No more, looks are failing
And my heart is fading
My life is taking me
