

One Word

The Angels

Well I wake up
Feel the same way every day
And I'm aching
I'm numb with a pain that I can't chase away

So I'm wondering, who's taking up your sacred, precious time?
Living from day to day without a single sign
Or without a why, oh no!

One word and one letter, one line
And I feel a whole lot better
One look and we'll say it's alright
And I feel a whole lot better

My heart breaks
The way you turn your back and carry on
Oh, and my head hurts
'Cause I just can't work out why it all went wrong

So I'm wondering, the more I think, the less I understand
Leaving is easy, you already know you're in command

One word and one letter, one line
And I feel a whole lot better
One look and we'll say it's alright
And I feel a whole lot better
Yes, I'm feeling a whole lot better, now

Ooh, and I'll try, try to keep
Just a little something means nothing to me
Ooh, I'll pretend that I'm in that deep love
I thought you knew me, oh, yeah
What I really want is...

One word and one letter, one line
And I feel a whole lot better
One look and we'll say it's alright
And I feel a whole lot better
One word and one letter, one line
One look and we'll say it's alright
Said it's alright, baby
Well, I feel a whole lot better now
