

Small Price

The Angels

Found a new religion, made your mother cry
Saw it all on television, sign up before you die
Right hand to guard you, give yourself away
Star on the rise, small price to pay

You said it's easy when you had the form
Whole life flashed before me, shut another door
Wait at the window, no plans today
Star on the rise, small price to pay

Small price, small price to pay
Small price, star on the rise, small price to pay

Cyclone warning, the people froze, falling all around me
Hold a painted rose, one man's opinion, nothing left to say
Star on the rise, small price to pay

It's such a small price, small price to pay
Small price, star on the rise
Small price to pay

Slow down every movement, break out every rule
Tried and true, broke them in two
Could be so cruel
Holding my head, walking on edge
Famous words on the tip of my tongue
Small price to pay
