

From Atrophy To Obsession

The Autumn Offering

Don't turn away
Don't say your last goodbyes
I bled for you
You know I tried
When you're rid of me
What will you look back and say?
That your wasted time
You can't get back and try
Left too numb to cry
And now the skies have blackened

This cross I bear for you

And now I'm dying again
By flames of my obsession
I won't let you go
If I could clip off your wings
Spit out the bitter poison
Silence will leave you cold

Hold on to this misery
When it's all that you've known

I hold on in the wake of your absence
In my heart I can't let go

And now I'm dying again
By flames of my obsession
I won't let you go
If I could clip off your wings
Spit out the bitter poison
Silence will leave you cold

I do this all for myself
Always I seek redemption
Silence will leave you cold
