

Time [feat. Josef Salvat]

The Avener

Time, time is all I need
For the best ones, for a fist full of memories
Full of other people's lives
Full of ends and full of starts, oh, the time
To let go of all I learned
Of the glory and the power I never earned
Of the thinking that gets in my way
Of regrets and mistakes

But I stand here in the street asking directions
Hoping that somebody else will show me how It's like the older I get the more time that I spend here just waiting
Wondering when it's finally gonna be now

Oh, time, time is all I've got
And I've tried in my own way to give a lot
To whoever let me call them mine
To whoever I could find

Still I stand here in the street asking directions
Hoping that somebody else will show me how
It's like the older I get the more time that I spend here just
waiting
Wondering when it's finally gonna be now
