

We Feel

The Awakening

You are the mindset broken from my palms
The silent shimmer only to disarm

Your ochred hue, my pallet washed in light
Free the strokes of movement Your form to emphasize

Your skin alone bears the scented promise of freedom from all weight Transcending the translucent
We will dance in the opaque

In crystal lace and water the suffered angels's sigh Your beauty here against my chest
Our shadows soar into the closing sky

And we turn away as the turning blade so viciously tears the flesh
And in the stillness of the silence of a weeping heart we will drink on all the bitterness

And We Feel

Now I know
I love you
Now I know
Now I know I love you
