

Broken Up A Ding Dong

The Beta Band

Falling down the road in the middle of the light
That don't mean it's gonna be alright
Falling down the road in the middle of the light
Say to myself "You're gonna be here all night"

Try to find myself and go
That way I know I see I'll never go slow
Try to find myself and go
That way you know you see you'll never go slow

See yourself on a thousand times
I'm trying make myself, I'm never gonna cry
You know the way in the day I fall
I never know that I could love I felt so hard
Hard and hard and hard and hard

This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way

This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way
This way and that way, this way and that way

How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house

How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
How you know when the river don't flow
Try to walk around my house
