

Born under a rotten sign
We've raped and killed with bliss
Here in after the fall of the world
Death and the dead are all that there is

Clutching at embittered straws again
Falling right through our hands
Is there still life out there worth dying for
In this comedy of dead ends?

Violence rules this shattered realm
Where logic ceased to breathe
Here in after the fall of all
Death and the dead evermore shall be

Godlessly time marches on
The world it seems
It's dead and fucking gone

A reclamation can't be won
Our only failing hope is to succumb
As bullets to broken brain
At least ensures in death we won't become the damned

No heaven, no hell
No here, no now
No heaven, no hell
All gods died the moment we fell from grace

I try to recollect those golden times
I held you in arms so sweet
When I was forced to stab your rotting skull
It tainted my all, the memory festers in me

Now this vengeance all but lost on me
The fire nearly extinct
Who will pay for all the evil now?
This rock our doom to be

Godlessly time marches on
Effortlessly the revenants have won
Quietly (Tirelessly) demise has come
The world it seems it's dead completely
It's choked and bleeding
It's heart's stopped beating It's dead and fucking gone
