

The Answer

The BossHoss

East, West, up and down, left, right, from town to town - I'm still searching for the answer.

I Met kings, queens, saints, sinners, fools, burns, freaks and winners - they couldn't give me the answer.

My hearts still burns and will follow you.
It will never ever change direction
'cause I'm not smart enough not to follow you I'm movin' on...

I am searching for the answer and I'll keep on trying to arrive in time at the final place where I can find it
- I just hope that I won't die before

I've been to church - no regrets, went through hell twice and back - I couldn't find no answer.

I learned Latin, Greek and Chinese, I've seen the world, sailed the seas -
I found no answer.

But my heart still burns and will follow you.
It will never ever change direction
'cause I'm not smart enough not to follow you I'm movin' on... I'm movin' on...

I'm still searching for the answer and I'll keep on trying to arrive in time at the final place where I can find
it
- I just hope that I won't die before.

My heart still burns and will follow you.
It will never ever change direction
'cause I'm not smart enough not to follow you I'm movin' on... on and on and on...

I am searching for the answer and I'll keep on trying to arrive in time at the final place where I can find
it
- I just hope that I won't die

I am searching for the answer and I'll keep on trying to arrive in time at the final place where I can find
it
- I just hope that I won't die before