

Monster

The Brian Jonestown Massacre

When I looked in your eyes
And I saw my own face
How it seemed out of place
Like mans foot steps in space
But were already there

Then I felt your breath
See my life in your eyes
And a fate worse than death
As I drew my next breath
Did you think I'd survive

Uncommon expectations do arise
I make peace with your monsters
And their lies

Then I touched your lips

And we started to kiss
Having spent my whole life
Until this moment arrived
I knew nothing like this

And I looked in your eyes
I saw my own face
How it seemed out of place
Like mans foot steps in space
But we're already there

I'm not going to fake this every time
I make peace with the monsters
Cause they're mine