

Heart With A Hole

The Bunny the Bear

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

All that remains at the bottom are lies that I've told
Wash away my sins
With heavy eyes I look up and cry
When will I be complete?
When will I be complete?
When will I be complete?

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

All that remains at the bottom are lies that I've told
Wash away my sins
With heavy eyes I look up and cry
I'll never be complete
I'll never be complete
I'll never be complete

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

I'm sorry to question myself
Was this all a waste of our time?
I'm trying to distance myself from these thoughts
But the despair consumes my mind
Well, I'm starting to question myself
I think of each time our hands intertwined
I try to remember back to the moments that made this
But still, there lies nothing

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down to the bottom of this blackened sea

I've got a heart with a hole and nothing's fitting inside (I love you)
Our words bring so much remorse. Well, have you given up on me?
I just can't bite my tongue. Something's burning inside (I need you)
And it has anchored me down I think it might just end up killing me
