

Rough Eyes

The Bunny the Bear

Look in my eyes, I'm dying.
Maybe you're all wrong for me, maybe it's all wrong to say here through the night.
I'm dying waiting for you.
Tell me that you love me, tell me it's alright.
Tell me that I'm wrong.
We're bent on leaving.

The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
That's what we're waiting for.
The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
They're not worth waiting for.

Look in my eyes, (Look in my eyes) I'm lying.
Saying you're all wrong for me, (Saying you're all wrong for me)
Saying that it's wrong to stay here through the night. (Saying that it's wrong)
I'm dying waiting for you. (I'm dying waiting for you.)
Tell me that you trust me, (Tell me that you trust me,)
Tell me it's alright to push our love aside. (Tell me it's alright to push our love aside.)
I'm bent on leaving. (On leaving)

The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
that's what you're waiting for. (That's what you're waiting for.)
The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
I'm not worth waiting for. (I'm not worth waiting for.)

The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
that's what you're waiting for. (That's what you're waiting for.)
The stars in the sky, they'll be alright,
I'm not worth waiting for. (I'm not worth waiting for.)

Waiting for the train to arrive...
Waiting for the train to arrive...
Waiting for the train to arrive...
Waiting for the train to arrive...

This is all you're gonna get in the end, it's all you're gonna get now.
A rapid drop that isn't meant to seem mellow at all,
for lack of words it's gonna break you down.
Well, I'm quite hesitant of things that you've said.
God only knew you'd drop a match in my lap in the end.
But it's alright, I swear I understand how spreading of the legs could be a pact between friends,
And now I quiver with pretentious delight,
your mold and mildew spreading miles in sight.
One more night, my chest tight, I grab your leg with my hand.
What we planned hit the fan.
Hit the fan.
Hit the fan.

Spread you legs one last time before I say goodbye.
(Spread you legs one last time before I say goodbye.)

Spread you legs one last time before I say goodbye.
