

Theme from "The Invisibles"

The Cassandra Complex

They move among us

They move between our lives
They sacrifice their lives for us
And we
Can never see what they do
We live in ignorance
Of everything that ever was
But arrogance will not prevail
We draw aside the veil
And rise up from the tomb
Our rose will bloom

We wait in silence
Someday we will ascend
Your rule will end
Your rule will end
We carry no flag
No man has our allegiance
We live between your lives
All knowledge, all power
Alive

Invisible, eternal
Invisible, eternal

The mob will rule again
