So Long

The Cat Empire

The bus drives over on a mellow scene We've done this five nights and tomorrow's free Oh I say, tomorrow's free And I seem to meet it in the morning and no sleep But I can't keep myself from wandering

Next night down in Montreal And when it rains I guess it pours Oh I say, when it rains it Pours and we go down into the Saint street keeping our feet of the ground Till we find ourselves at breakfast in our super town

So long well hey hey hey Though I'd see you all again So long and hey hey hey The bus driver yonder in the morning light Look out of the window baby and what a sight we say Well hey hey

I now a girl who's got eyes on her feet So when she starts dreaming she roams And she'll know where she's going She looks alright that's Romina she's dancing on the speakers And speaking of moving Ruben's places started Jumping with the campisis

So long hey hey hey Though I'd see you all again So long and hey hey hey

Thursday was solid and Friday's cool Saturday was messy in the best way possible Sunday should be for rest but these Cats on the corner and I can't keep my chest from a Rumbling the same way it did when I was young and blessed

So long well hey hey hey Though I'd see you all again So long and hey hey hey The bus driver yonder in the morning light Look out of the window baby and what a sight we say Well hey hey

So long hey hey hey Remember me and that it's all OK now baby So long hey hey hey
