

Different Days

The Charlatans

Different days
Nature's gaze
In your headlights
Always the way
When waking up in the dark nights
Was so frightening
Now enlightened
Through distortion
Headless horsemen
Through distortion, through distortion

Different planes
Heading out to the same place
Mapping the skies
I can't wait to see your face

We are all coincidences
Accepting idiosyncrasies
Keep confidences, confidences

I just couldn't say
What it takes to make you laugh
And what it'd take to make you stay
It's not about today
You point to the future
And then you walk away

Like scenes in plays, different days
Different ways, different days

We are all coincidences
Accepting idiosyncrasies
Keep confidences, confidences

I just couldn't say
What it takes to make you laugh
And what it'd take to make you stay
It's not about today
You point to the future
And then you walk away

Like scenes in plays, different days
Different ways, different days
Like scenes in plays, different days
Different ways, different days