

Let The Good Times Be Never Ending

The Charlatans

We fill our thoughts with everyday reminders
And no remorse for winning none the wiser
You can tell when we came together
How long it lasts that's where it stays

We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending
We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending

And in-between a place for new beginnings
To fill our dreams instead we keep on winning
Take the past send present to the future
Make it last slow down we'll get there sooner

We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending
We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending

We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending
We know each other
I get the love that you're sending
Let the good times be never ending
