

Over Again

The Charlatans

Write a message in the sand
To your heart from my hand
We move into the night
Short walk to daylight
We talk
High on a hill
Wild
We raised the bar now
Sure, we are unknowns
But we're never alone, 2,3,4,5

Minutes have passed since I last asked
We've taken two more photographs
I would like to live this day
Over again
I never felt so sure, but been so scared
To spend moments with someone who cared
Repeating everything you said
Over again and over again
Over again

Write a message in the sky
Anything to catch your eye
It's 5 am
You're wearing my black sweatshirt again
We laugh
Sometimes we try
Sometimes we don't
We're here to stay now
Sure, we are unknowns
But we're never alone, 2,3,4,5

Years have passed, it's gone so fast
A hundred thousand photographs
For the both of us to look at
Over again
I've never felt so sure but been so scared
To spend moments with someone who cared
I'd like to hear everything you said over again
And over again
Over again
Over Again
Over Again
Over Again
Over again
Over again
And over again
