

Trust in Desire

The Charlatans

A fantasy beyond the debris
Not too far away from me
Lies a hero wrapped in fur, who's fast asleep
Trust in desire
And in my dream you kissed my head
For all my little victories
The prettiest brown eyes that I have ever seen
Trust in desire

Trust in desire
I will follow you
I will inspire
Will you help me too
Remember when we could be friends?
And through the fire
Trust in desire

And we will sing and dance around
And fix our broken little wings
Nestle in, our eyes will sparkle in the ring
Trust in desire

Trust in desire
I will follow you
I will inspire
Will you help me too
Remember when we could be friends?
And through the fire
Trust in desire

And in my dream this world is weak
And with our words the truth we speak
And in defeat I will bestow
Our destination is unknown
A hero, a hero, never dies
And in my dream this world is weak
And with our words the truth we speak
And in defeat I will bestow
Our destination is unknown
A hero. A hero! Never dies

Trust in desire
I will follow you
I will inspire
Will you help me too
Remember when we could be friends?
And through the fire
Trust in desire
Trust in desire
Trust in desire
