

From Here To Hell

The Coffinshakers

From here to Hell, all alone, I have wandered
From here to Hell, and back, in all those years
From here to Hell I have seen all the pain in the world
I have been lost and can't be found

I hear a tortured howl in the distance
Could it be another of my kind?
Or is it just yet another echo of my fate,
the devil laughing in my face?

Alone I shall forever be
Out in these eternal winds
Alone in this twilight where
Serenity ends and death begins

From Here to Hell my thoughts often wander
From Here to Hell, through years of misery
From Here to Hell my dreams has all been torn apart
In endless alleys always dark

Never look my way or you'll see who I am
Face me and you won't live long to tell
From here to Hell I am forever to be
In a twilight meant for only me

Alone I shall forever be
Out in these eternal winds
Alone in this twilight where
Serenity ends and death begins
