Sanctum Sanctorum

The Damned

I know it's late and I should goto bed But I can't tear away from the night It holds the seed of a memory Its true of you

When I first saw you I realised The fire burned deep inside your eyes I knew a kiss would paralyse Its true from you

Awake in the night to whisper your name Only a silence replies it's answer a sleeping refrain The moment dies but memory stays Love like a run our way by We spin and we climb To where once islands cried And there sometimes angels can be devils too It's true of you It's true of you

When shadows no longer fall And footsteps can't be heard at all I hear the ghost of a call Its true from you

Awake in the night to whisper your name Only silence replies it's answer a sleeping refrain The moments die but memory stays Reaching for something thats just out of reach Lost to your lips and drowned in your kiss The tide of your passion is now but a dream Its but a dream
