Isn't It a Lovely Night?

The Decemberists

Isn't a lovely night And so alive With fireflies Providing us their holy light

And here we made a bed of boughs And thistle down That we had found To lay upon the dewey ground

And isn't it a lovely day We got in from our play Isn't it ? A sweet little baby

And wasn't it a lovely breeze That swept the leaves Of arbor reeves And bent a brush of blushing knees

And here we died our little deaths And we were left to catch our breaths So swiftly lifting from our chests

And isn't a lovely way We got in from our play Isn't it ? A sweet little baby
