

Wanting Not so Much to as To

The Dillinger Escape Plan

In a lifeless memory
You're not there
A craving in the street
I'm alive and getting an urge to fill the void

With whatever I need
With whatever I need
With whatever I need
I withdraw
You advance
The move is complete

Are you able to see
Cause it's getting too bright for me
Over time we'll dissolve
To a feeling we won't recall

Bring all your heroes
Down to their knees
I don't need nothing
I do as I please

Destiny
Overruled
Through distance
I'm losing
Creation
Of your mind
Through distance
I'm losing
Through distance
I'm losing

All night I've been trying to reach out
How people naturally do when they're young
An attempt to live
To feel weightless and free
In the abyss

For a time
I felt completely alive
Still without legs
We all just sink

In the past
I would have tried harder
But now I know there isn't anything there
And what you, I, we were reaching for
Is something I had in me all along

For a time
I felt completely alive
Still without legs
We all just sink

We see most clear
From lowest points

Through distance we're losing
Hope for our dignity

Bring all your heroes
Down to their knees
I don't need nothing
I do as I please
