

Rise Up

The Dirty Youth

Another year has passed
You're stuck behind the glass
The corporate machine
That crushes hopes and dreams
Where did it all go wrong?
It's not where we belong
It this the final straw
I'm screaming out for more

Ok I confess
I've been feeling stressed
Thinking evil thoughts
When it's time to rest
what you stand for
really does not interest me

Now that we digress
Into nothingness
Pointless, nostalgic,
Logic with emptiness
What you stand for
Really does not concern me

The room started spinning
The red mist descending
Make your move for the door
Kick over chairs
And run down the stairs
I just can't take anymore

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

My head's heavy now
This is killing me
All these simple minds
That just can't agree
What you strive for
Really does not affect me

Can you see yourself
As you try your best
Slave to power
So confused and self obsessed
What you strive for
Really does not impress me

The room started spinning
The red mist descending

Kick over chairs

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up, rise up, rise up rise..

I hear you calling,
Are we still falling?

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution

Rise up
Join the revolution
Take away the lies
Leave the institution
