

Oh the Germans, can't they ever lose?
Well, they've got all the money and none of the blues
Well, they've got fancy cars and they drive real fast
Because there's no speed limit on the autobahns

Well, is you in or is you ain't
A true blue citizen lying in wait
For the United States of Europe?

Go to France but prepare to hike
Because the roads are closed with another strike
Well, they laugh at Charlie and our royal heirs
Yeah, but they're only jealous 'cause they killed all theirs

Well, is you in or is you ain't
A doomsday prophet or a patron saint
Of the United States of Europe?

Those Italians think they're so damn cool
Because they don't wear helmets and they drive like fools
With their slicked back hair and their Gucci shades
With a brand new government every day

Well, is you is or is you ain't
Or are you just resigned to your fate
In the United States of Europe?
