I Need Fun in My Life

The Drums

You'd think I would know All the answers to the questions before I get old But I've spent too much time thinking And I've spent too much time doing It's time to go

And I need fun, fun, fun, fun, fun, fun In my life And I need life In my fun, fun, fun, fun, fun

Oh, I took a walk yesterday all around New York City And I saw something written on a car It said "The less you own the more freedom you have" The less you own the more freedom you have So I went home and I threw it all away
