

Dark Is Light Enough

The Duke Spirit

The dark is light enough for anyone comforting
A wounded heart and a makeover friend
You're in a tighter place than you'd ever believe me now
The truest voices are the ones heard alone
You think you push it but you don't touch me at all
Between her legs is a smooth marble wall
The mood is right enough I'll never forgive you now
The truest voices are the ones heard alone

You're in my heart, you know
You're in my heart, you know
You're in my heart, I know
You're in my heart

You think you hid but it catches you up again
I knew it straight away, you suffer like devil men
To think you push it but you don't touch me at all
Between your head is there nothing at all?
The dark is light enough for anyone comforting
A wounded heart and a makeover friend
You're in a tighter place than you'd ever believe
The loudest voices are the ones heard alone

You're in my heart, I know
You're in my heart, yeah I know
You're in my heart, I know
You're in my heart

You you you, you suffer like
You you you, you suffer like

Your face is far enough I'll never remember how
We came to rub away the meaning and all the sound
The air is light enough I think I'll forget somehow
You have no voice and since your touch isn't here, well
The dark is light enough for anyone comforting
A wounded heart and a makeover friend
You're in a tighter place than you'd ever believe
The truest voices are the ones heard alone

You're in my heart, I know
You're in my heart, I suppose
You're in my heart, well I hope
I'm in your heart