

Don't Blow It

The Elected

Someone out there loves you.

You know who you are.

Someone out there's waiting for you.

'Cause you're a shining star.

And when the right time comes you're going to break their heart.

So when the right times comes.

Don't blow it.

Don't throw it away.

And I'm the voice you're hearing in the dark,
the one that knows your name.

And I'm that choice you're making with your heart.

And I'll take all the blame.

So when the right time comes don't throw it away.

Yeah, when the right time comes, you'll know it.

When the right time comes, you'll know it.

When the right time comes, don't blow it and break your heart.

So don't blow it.
