The Ex

You search for paradise
You're flying to be free
But now you're tied to your
Dealer's reality
Reality hurts again
So paradise you seek
But you can't find it in the store
Where they arrested you last week
You're going even further in your need to score
To get money for stuff you play the whore
You're so independent you'd even rob your friends
If that's what you want from life it should better end
