

Beautiful Friction

The Fixx

All I ever wanted from those eyes
Was a beautiful friction
All I ever felt was a loving contradiction
As life waits to begin
Born by an act of rejection
Lost to time, forgotten lives
Return to our connection

I've been thrown apart, washed aside
Never indifferent to it
And here we struggle with a compromise
Only to realize
It's a beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction

As the deck swayed side to side
Caught sight of the ship's reflection
Lonely mast in a perfect storm
Clings on to its direction

I've been pulled apart, washed aside
Never indifferent to it
And here we struggle with a compromise
Only to realize
If I could listen to
Let you in
Tell you its alright
Staring at a changing sky
Only to empathize
With a beautiful friction
With a beautiful friction

Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
All I ever wanted from those eyes
Beautiful friction

All I've ever felt was
Beautiful friction
Dying waits to begin
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
Beautiful friction
