Is it the glow of evil That presents itself again With one rule for the species And another for the man

Place yourself in his shoes Observe his evil bent Watch out for illusion Or you may become a friend

In suspense,
Who, what, where and why
In suspense,
And it's who, what, where and why

Take a tip from no one Become immortal man No fear of your ending Prepare your masterplan

When in suspense,
It's who, what, where and why
I'm in suspense,
And it's who, what, where and why

I look for the connection Between yourself and I (There is) less time than we wish for Another species dies

Invent a life with your eyes Inscribe your own mottos Use some imagination Then watch your spirit grow

When in suspense,
It's who, what, where and why
Oh God I'm in suspense,
And it's who, what, where and why

I look for the connection
Between yourself and I
(There is) less time than we wish for Another species dies

In suspense
Why
I look for the connection
In suspense
[repeat]
