Precious Stone

I danced in the surf at the edge of an ocean Could have been someone else could have been anything at all Don't deny that you ask yourself How do you weigh in this precious stone?

I stumbled on a flaw in the order Unwrapped the gift and spread the sheet to the border There's no virtue if there's no sin How do you weigh in this precious stone At the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return

Well at the end of the day There's no me without you At the end of the day There's no me without you So how do you weigh in this precious stone?

Well I'm a tick in the clock of old Father Time Feel the beat of the rock under the palm of of my hand Don't deny that you ask yourself How do you weigh in this precious stone? We're at the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return This precious stone At the point of no return

This precious stone...
