

Your Touch

The Frozen Autumn

Nothing seems to be wrong waiting for the sunrise waiting for so long

As a matter of fact
You just put Your touch within my dreams
And I'm falling

Take My hand and I will stay
for another day Clouds are fading away
everytime I stay with You

Take astray the rainy day
write another page
of the story to tell everytime I feel I'm not alone

I'm not alone

When My tears begin to fall
And fading on the floor
You're just taking my soul

Echoes of a rainy day
remembering Your name Clouds are fading away
and I'm not alone

Now I'm here in my room thinking of Your eyes

talking to Myself

As a matter of fact
You just put Your touch within my dreams
and I'm falling

for another day
Clouds are fading away

Take astray the rainy days
of the story to tell
everytime I feel I'm not alone

I'm not alone

I'm not alone

I'm not alone

I'm not alone

When My tears begin to fall

fading on the floor
You're just taking my soul

Echoes of a rainy day
remembering Your name

I'm not alone.
