

Anna Lee

The Georgia Satellites

Anna Lee, she's a pain to me
Well now, everything she does she's gotta have her own way
She won't do it unless it's her own way
But she can move mountains with the wink of an eye
Bring a man to tears, and she don't even try

Anna Lee. She's the same to me

Well you can't tell her nothing she don't already know
She can change her will, ...
She don't want to hear when you speak your mind
She don't hold nothing that she didn't find

Well she woke up one morning, found herself all alone
No-one will answer on the telephone
Sleeping all alone in a bed full of rain
No-one will answer or feel her pain
