

Child Of Light

The Getaway Plan

I've been wandering around the hills tonight
In this kingdom, is where my heart resides.

And I know I must be dreaming, and none of this is real.
A fire inside says otherwise, and burns on through the fields.
The scenery around me is splitting at the seams.
And through the cracks a light escapes and shines all over me
Like ooh, oh oh

I've been wandering, around the hills tonight.
In this kingdom, is where my soul divides.

And all of this is fleeting, I'm only passing through.
And underneath the spinning lights, a twisted point of view.
I walk on through the valley, a shadow over me.
And in the big fluorescent sky a voice begins to sing,
Like "I'm a child of light" and "I can see from miles".
"I'm a child of light" and "I can see from miles".

I'm a child of, I'm a child of, I'm a child of light
I'm a child of, I'm a child of light
I'm a child of, I'm a child of light
I'm a child of, I'm a child of light
I'm a child of, I'm a child of light

I'm a child of light and I can see from miles.
