

Stupid Things

The Growlers

If you could go back and make your stand
Wiping the rust off the land
How can you be so sure
Of who you are or were?

Stupid things you'd fix in your reflection
If you had a million cash
If you knew then what you think you know now
But if you never could come back

Useful ways in useless hands
Now that you think you kinda understand
How can you be so sure
Of who you are or were?

Stupid things you'd fix in your reflection
If you had a million cash
If you knew then what you think you know now
What if you never could come back?

There's a first and a last time
What you get is all you need
Love's supposed to be a guessing game
But everybody wants to cheat

Stupid things you'd fix in your reflection
If you had a million cash
If you knew then what you think you know now
What if you never could come back?

There's a first and a last time
What you get is all you need
Life's supposed to be a guessing game
But everybody wants to cheat

In the past was a love test
Everybody has to fail
Beauty feels safest in ignorance
True love wears a veil
True love wears a veil
