

Brother And Sister

The Gun Club

Why do you keep me way underground?
My sight is dying as was the sound
Why do you paint me and cover me with jewels?
Where are we going? What are we going to do?

You used to say that you'd take me home
But I keep falling to the sister
Whose brother falls unto the sister
Keep getting pushed further and further away, yeah

Sins of me, buzz and hiss in the trees
Their little skeletons will harm no one
Why do you bring them, always back to me
Their kingdom come and their will be done
On Heaven and earth and me

You used to say that you'd take me home
But, I keep falling to the sister
Whose brother falls unto the sister
Keep getting pushed further and further away, yeah

And who is that there always beside you?
When I count us together, together we are only two

I had a dream and there was foxfire in your hair
I am your brother, your lover, I give you my blood
I'll follow you anywhere

You used to say that, you'd take me home but
But, I keep falling to the sister
Whose brother falls unto the sister
Keep getting pushed further and further away

You used to say that, you never know
But, I keep falling to the sister
Whose brother falls unto the sister
Keep getting pushed further and further away, yeah
