

The House on Highland Avenue

The Gun Club

Were you ever thinking when you met that girl uptown and were you ever thinking when you pulled her underground

There is no fire in your glass eye there is no feeling when you're done and one day you will find out what kind of monster you've become

Were you ever thinking
when you pulled her off the bus and dragged her down in your basement and left her soul to rust

There is no fire in your glass eye

And were you really thinking when you got wired up in L.A. like death she sat and waited and came to us to stay

There is no fire in your glass eye

when she came home from work at night and you did her into a coma while she was still alive

There is no fire in your glass eye
