

Ceremony

The Haunted

Raise the dead
to hear them scream again
It's a prize in it's own right Equal in death at last, with no expectation made There's no escape in this and that's how it ends

This is my ceremony
A blood rite to spite your kind

Smalltown kings and queens Falling over-it's so concealed.

So let this day remain and linger (until)the memories come crawling your way Sinking deeper, closer to who you were The pain will truthfully bring you home

This is my ceremony
A blood rite to spite your kind
A fire burning deep within me

Become stone in time sink into oblivion, endless..
Crawl
Become the master of this pyramid
Venom
Runs like blood through you veins

The more you deny it the closer it gets Resisting is futile, this ends in a coffin kiss.

This is my ceremony
A blood rite to spite your kind
A fire burning deep within me
