

Blinded By The Light

The Hellacopters

There was an early warning
I could have seen all the signs
When the wind was blowing
Brought shivers down my spine

But it's too late to worry
'Cause I've signed that bottom line
I'm not even mine

I was a man for hire
With new means to and end
Now I'm an excellent liar
I thought I'd fuck with my best friend

And I'm out of answers
'Cause I've scraped that barrel dry
And I can't see why

But everything's alright
Just got blinded by the light

I'm not safe or sorry
'Cause I've made my own deals
And I've tasted glory
And for a moment it was real

And if you ask no questions
I won't have to tell you why
I won't have to lie

Yeah everything's alright
Just got blinded by the light

But everything's alright
Just got blinded by the light

I'm alright, I'm alright
Got blinded by the light

I'm alright, I'm alright
Yeah, blinded by the light
