The Innocence Mission

I met the sweetest of angels yesterday. And I knew it was true Since she got those Flowers with a message "The Angels are watching your every move" And I never saw the most innocent of clothes That she's chosen for her mission. Is there a thrift shop in heaven Where the clothes of the pure go? She must have picked them up there. Soul sisters? We chirped and chattered, Exchanged blessings. I watched lighted sparks spring Oh yes, there's electricity in angel wings., Didn't you know; I was sorry to have to go.
