

Chimes

The J. Geils Band

Well, it's long past midnight
And it's long past getting sleep
You know it's long past midnight
And the night is much too deep

Sitting in my room
Looking through the window pane
Sitting in my room
Nothing seems the same

Outside's so quiet
Something moving in the trees
Everything's so quiet
There's a sound in the breeze

I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chime

Something's got me worried
I really don't wanna say
Been so worried
There's a heavy price to pay

Guess I'll go out walking
Through the streets tonight
I think I'll go out walking
To the night, turn the light

I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes

I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
I hear the chimes
