

Mockingbird Time

The Jayhawks

Yesterday is gone like the wind
Like the wind it its gone
Yesterday is gone like the wind
Like the wind it its gone
In the song birds that most never see
It taught me how to halt

I want to make something for you
That brings you joy
I want to make something for you
That brings you joy

There's so much color in the sky that's in your eyes
The moment that we see each other alone
There's so much color in the sky that's in your eyes
Moment that we see each other alone

Each day as we walk up the hill
Will the clouds hear our song?
Each day as we walk up the hill
Will the clouds hear our song
Noise in our hearts
Is the one from the sky lives on

I want to make something for you
That brings you joy
I want to make something for you
That brings you joy

There's so much color in the sky that's in your eyes
The moment that we see each other alone
There's so much color in the sky that's in your eyes
Moment that we see each other alone

Where you are that's where I live
I'm reaching out for words to give
I'm walking on boy, telling you why
I've really gone back, mockingbird time
I've really gone back, you're all that I have

So much color in the sky that's in your eyes
Moments that we see each other alone
There's so much color in the sky that's in your eyes
Moment that we see each other alone

There's so much color
There's so much color
There's so much color
There's so much color in the sky
