

Quiet Corners & Empty Spaces

The Jayhawks

A sigh, the wandering eye has opened A stare, although we're barely broken the start of a brand new adventure

Hey now
Catch me quick before I walk away
Tell me if there's something I should say
I find the quiet corners and the empty spaces

Not far a blue guitar is playing it drew me like it knew me, sa ying

Hey now
Catch me quick before I walk away
Tell me if there's something I should say
I find the quiet corners and the empty spaces

We drown in up's and down's neglecting the beauty of our sun is setting
In the end there's no waiting redemption