The Jayhawks

It all started one day It came out of the blue Everybody was talking About the bad things their Mams and dads were doing Ten little kids On the side of the road Laughing, running Jumping, playing They don't care what their Mams and dads are doing It began in the summer I broke my arm in the swamp Never fixed us supper So we ran her down when we grew up Ten little kids On the side of the road Laughing, running Jumping, playing They don't care what their Mams and dads are doing Ten little kids On the side of the road Laughing, running Jumping, playing They don't care what their Mams and dads are doing
