

Holding On

The Jeff Healey Band

It's alright if you want to leave
Baby, I'm not what you need
Well, lately I
Feel the same way too

Has our ties finally come to past
Is it worth the pain of tryin' to make it last
Well, I don't think so, baby
How about you?

We pretend that nothing's wrong
But the love we had is gone
And I just don't see no use holding on

We can hope there's a better day
We could search it sad for something left to say
But tell me the truth
What good would it do?

We pretend that nothing's wrong
But the love we had is gone
And I just don't see no use holding on

Here we are
Together but so alone
We've got so far
Just living our lie
Hiding when we should have known

We pretend that nothing's wrong
But the love we had is gone
And I just don't see no use holding on

We could pretend that nothing's wrong
But the love we had is gone
And I just don't see no use holding on
Holding on...

There's no reason holding on...
