

Not Today

The Jelly Jam

So some are in color
Some are black and white
And if you ask me if I'm going, well...
I might say "I might"
But not today

The same happened to you
The same as a dog
Just when you thought you were going...
All you got was fog
Not today

You know the last time I looked
It looked mostly gray
But after the winter I can't really say
Not today

And the master of puppets
Who had just lost an eye
Asked me if he could
Put a glass one in and sorta
Drive right by I said "not today"

He loves power
He loves driving in the night
He loves power (power)
He loves putting up a fight
But not today

So you finally convinced him
That his real name was Sue
And now that he knows that he doesn't really know what to do
Not today
