

Believe Me Natalie

The Killers

Believe me, Natalie,
Listen Natalie
This is your last chance
To find a go-go dance to disco now
Please believe me, Natalie,
Listen Natalie
This is your last chance
To find a go-go dance to disco now

Forget what they said in Soho
Leave the oh-no's out
And believe me, Natalie,
Listen Natalie
This is your last chance

There is an old cliché
Under your Monet, baby
Remember the arch of roses
Right above your couch
Forget what they said in Soho
Leave the oh-no's out
Yes, there is an old cliché
Under your Monet, baby

You left this nation nailed to the floor
With speculation, what was it for?
In that old hallway
Moses, why don't you say
You've been away for a long time

Believe me, Natalie
This is your last chance
To find a go-go
Forget what they said in Soho
And walk away
If my dreams for us can get you through
Just one more day
It's alright by me

God help me somehow
There's no time for survival left
The time is now...
Cause this might be your last chance
To disco, oh-oh
