Damned If She Do

She damned if she do She damned if she don't If history hang-hang-hangs her well Her memory won't

There's been a procession of Sweethearts passing through Some of them left no trace at all Some left her black and blue

She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her last legs Uh... She come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her last legs

She damned if she will She damned if she wants Some of them left in one piece And some she damn near broke

And I am no stranger to the strange and all his ways What could be stranger than to be stuck outside your cage

She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her last legs Uh... she come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her deathbed Uh... she come alive when she on her deathbed

She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her last legs Uh... she come alive when she dying She come alive when she on her deathbed Uh... she come alive when she on her deathbed

She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying She come alive when she dying