

My Heart Is Still Beating

The Kinleys

Is this some coincidence
It's been exactly one year since
You packed up your things and went away
I was so obsessed with you
My life was a mess it's true
Now you're wondering how I am today

My heart is still beating
My brain is still thinking
My blood is still flowing
My vital signs showing
My heart is still beating
And I'm still breathing
So if I'm still living
Then I'm still in love with you

You say you made a big mistake
Well honey that's a chance you take
When you think your in love with somebody new
You say you almost didn't call
The way you broke my heart and all
Did you think that I was over you

My heart is still beating
My brain is still thinking
My blood is still flowing
My vital signs showing
My heart is still beating
And I'm still breathing
So if I'm still living
Then I'm still in love with you

My heart is still beating
